Turner High School
Kansas City, Kansas
Volume 38
Editor-in-chief: Pat Martin
Published by the Turnerite staff

Cover design by Diane Arnold
Introduction by John Borusheski
Poem in introduction found in Old St. Paul's Church, Baltimore, dated 1692.

"Go placidly amid the noise and haste and remember what peace there may be in silence.

. . . do not distress
yourself with imaginings.
Many fears are born of fatigue and loneliness.

. . . be gentle with yourself.
You are a child of the universe, no less than the trees and stars; you have a right to be here.

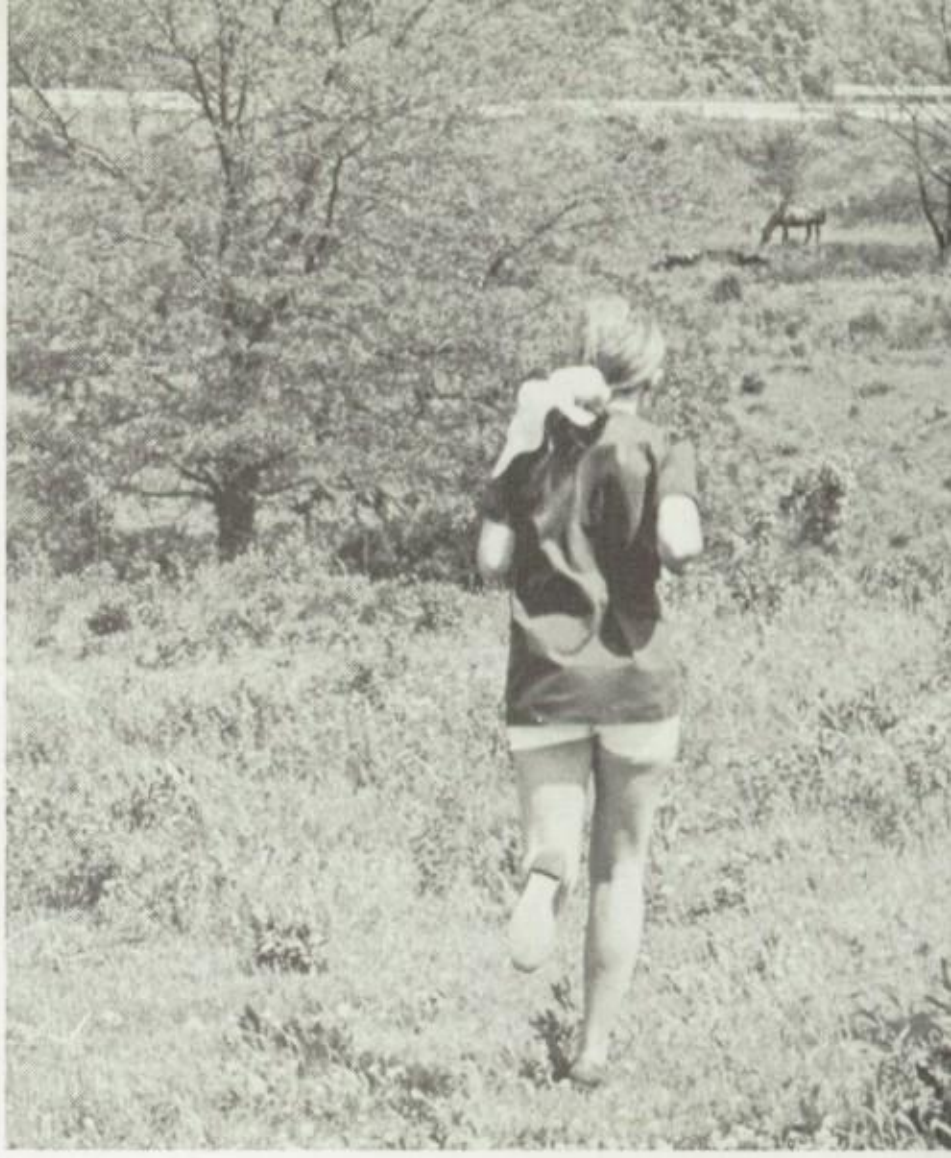
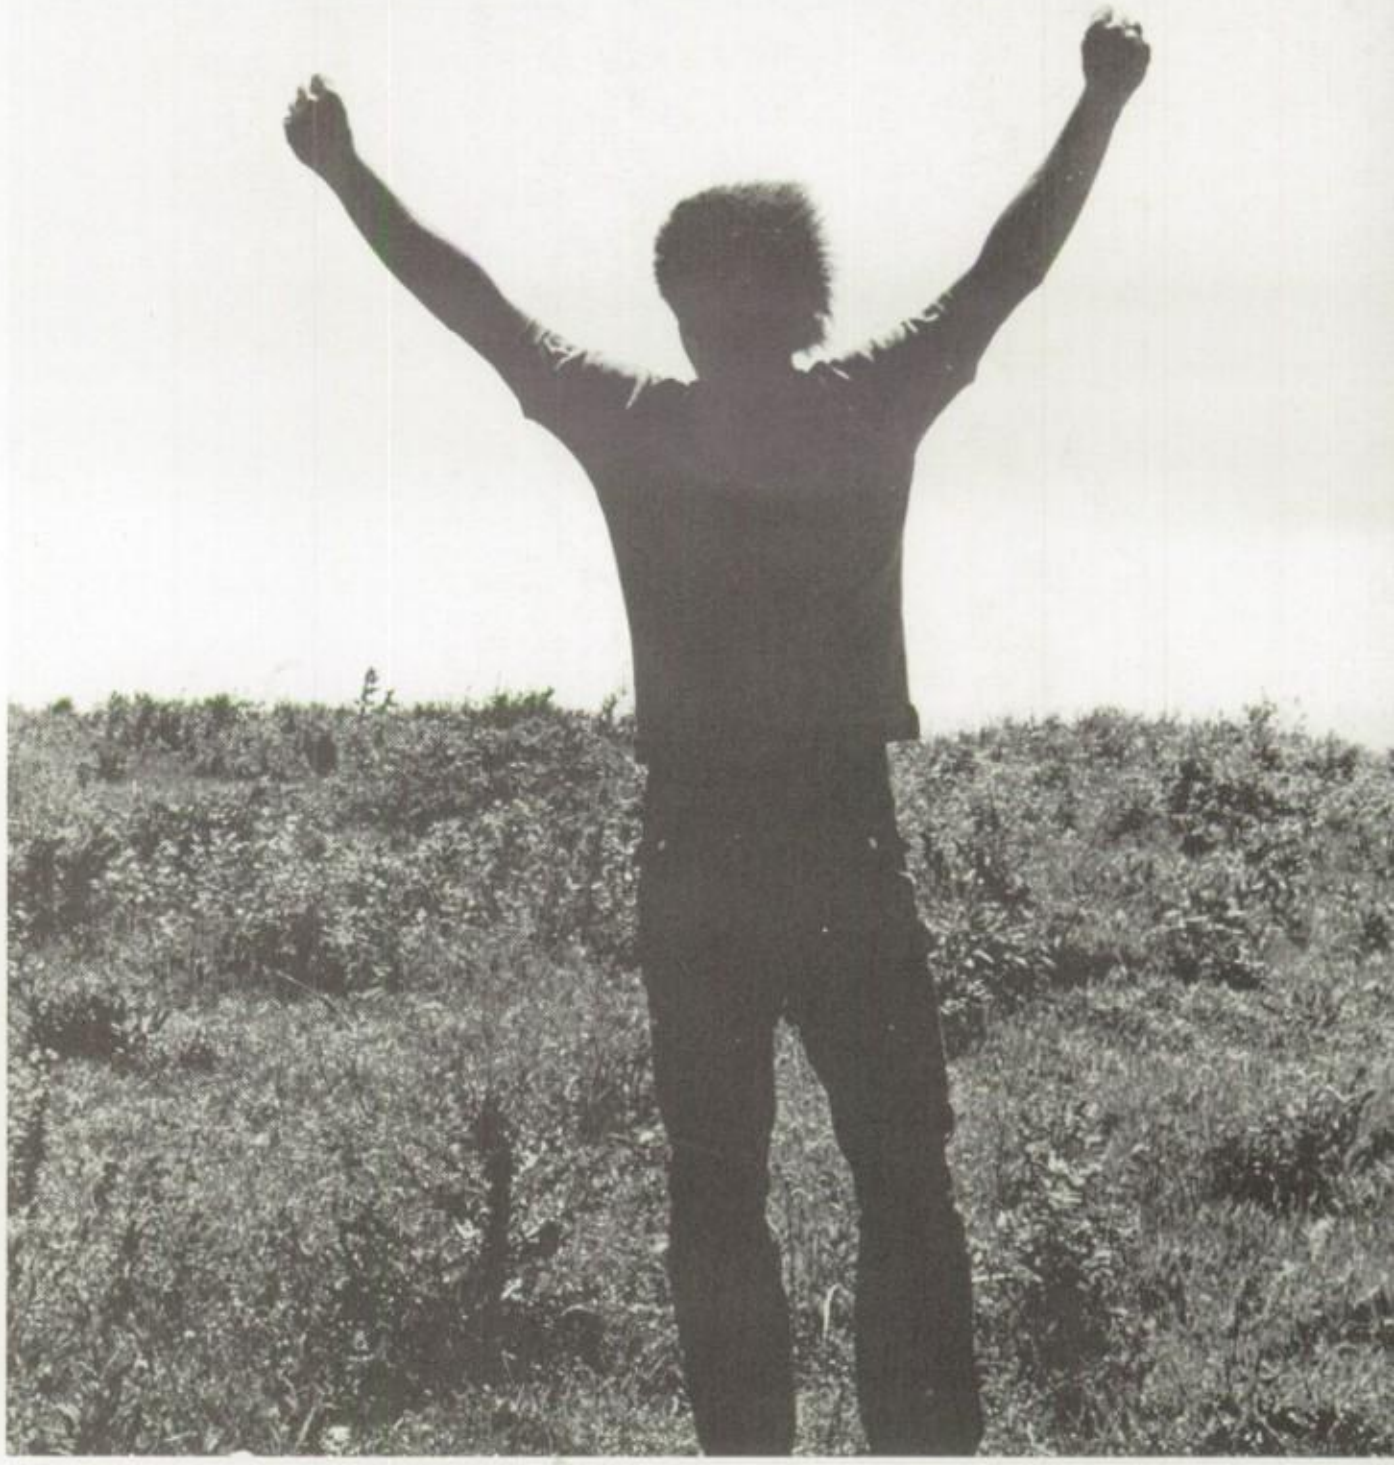
Be yourself, especially do not feign affection. Neither be cynical about love; for in the face of all aridity and disenchantment it is as perennial as the grass.





. . . in the noisy confusion
With all its sham, drudgery, of life keep peace with your soul.

and broken dreams, it is still a beautiful world."

Of course there is sadness. How else would we know happiness?

Of course there is tragedy. How else would we grow?

With the deaths of Miss Elizabeth Ann Choplin and Stephen Lee Littlefield, we students grew a lot. We learned to accept death as a fact of life. We learned to find comfort in our memories. We remember Chopper's laugh, her vitality, and her understanding. We remember Steve's friendliness, his cheerfulness, and his integrity.

We live, we grow, we live.

Being in the musical? " . . . At first I felt I couldn't do it . . . I thought I would let too many people down . . . but after we began rehearsing I looked forward to it. It's such a different world . . . It's always easier to portray a character if your two personalities coincide. Eliza became a part of me. I came to know her through books, the play, and other people.

Dances, drama, and assemblies bring relief to hectic school life

When the musical was over I cried . . . All the nights after school, the people, the songs—gone. It was like saying good-bye to a friend . . ."

Robin Mailberg

The senior lounge? "Well, I'm on the committee and at first we had a real rigid plan, but it's relaxed a lot . . . I think that without rules the students feel more responsible and don't misuse their privileges . . ."

A pass-fail system? "I have two sides on that. It would be bad because there would be no distinction between being number one in your class and just barely passing . . . It might encourage true learning, though. A person could concentrate on the subjects he's interested in without worrying about his grades in other subjects dropping."

Kim Haden

. . . You ain't heard what I come for yet. Did you tell him I come in a taxi?
. . . Pickering, shall we ask this baggage to sit down, or shall we throw her out of the window?

. . . My aunt died of influenza so they said, but it's my belief they done the old woman in.

I want a little kindness. I know I'm a common ignorant girl, you a book-learned gentleman; but I'm not dirt under your feet. What I done—what I did was not for the dresses and the taxis, I did it because we were pleasant together and I come—came—to care for you . . .

My Fair Lady is the story of a young girl from the London streets, transformed into a lady of high society; not without some difficulties. At first Professor Higgins wouldn't hear of instructing her in the ways of a lady, but finally gave in as a dare from Col. Pickering. Liza Doolittle's first appearance was at the races, in Mrs. Higgins' private box. Liza's speech and manners were perfect until she got carreid away and shocked Mrs. Higgins' friends. Careful word-work by Prof. Higgins and Col. Pickering apologized for her slip.

Months of drilling followed until the night of the Ball, when Liza passed as a Hungarian princess. Despite some difficulties, Liza and Professor Higgins live happily ever after, ending the play.

From the streets to society—
transformation by Professor Henry Higgins

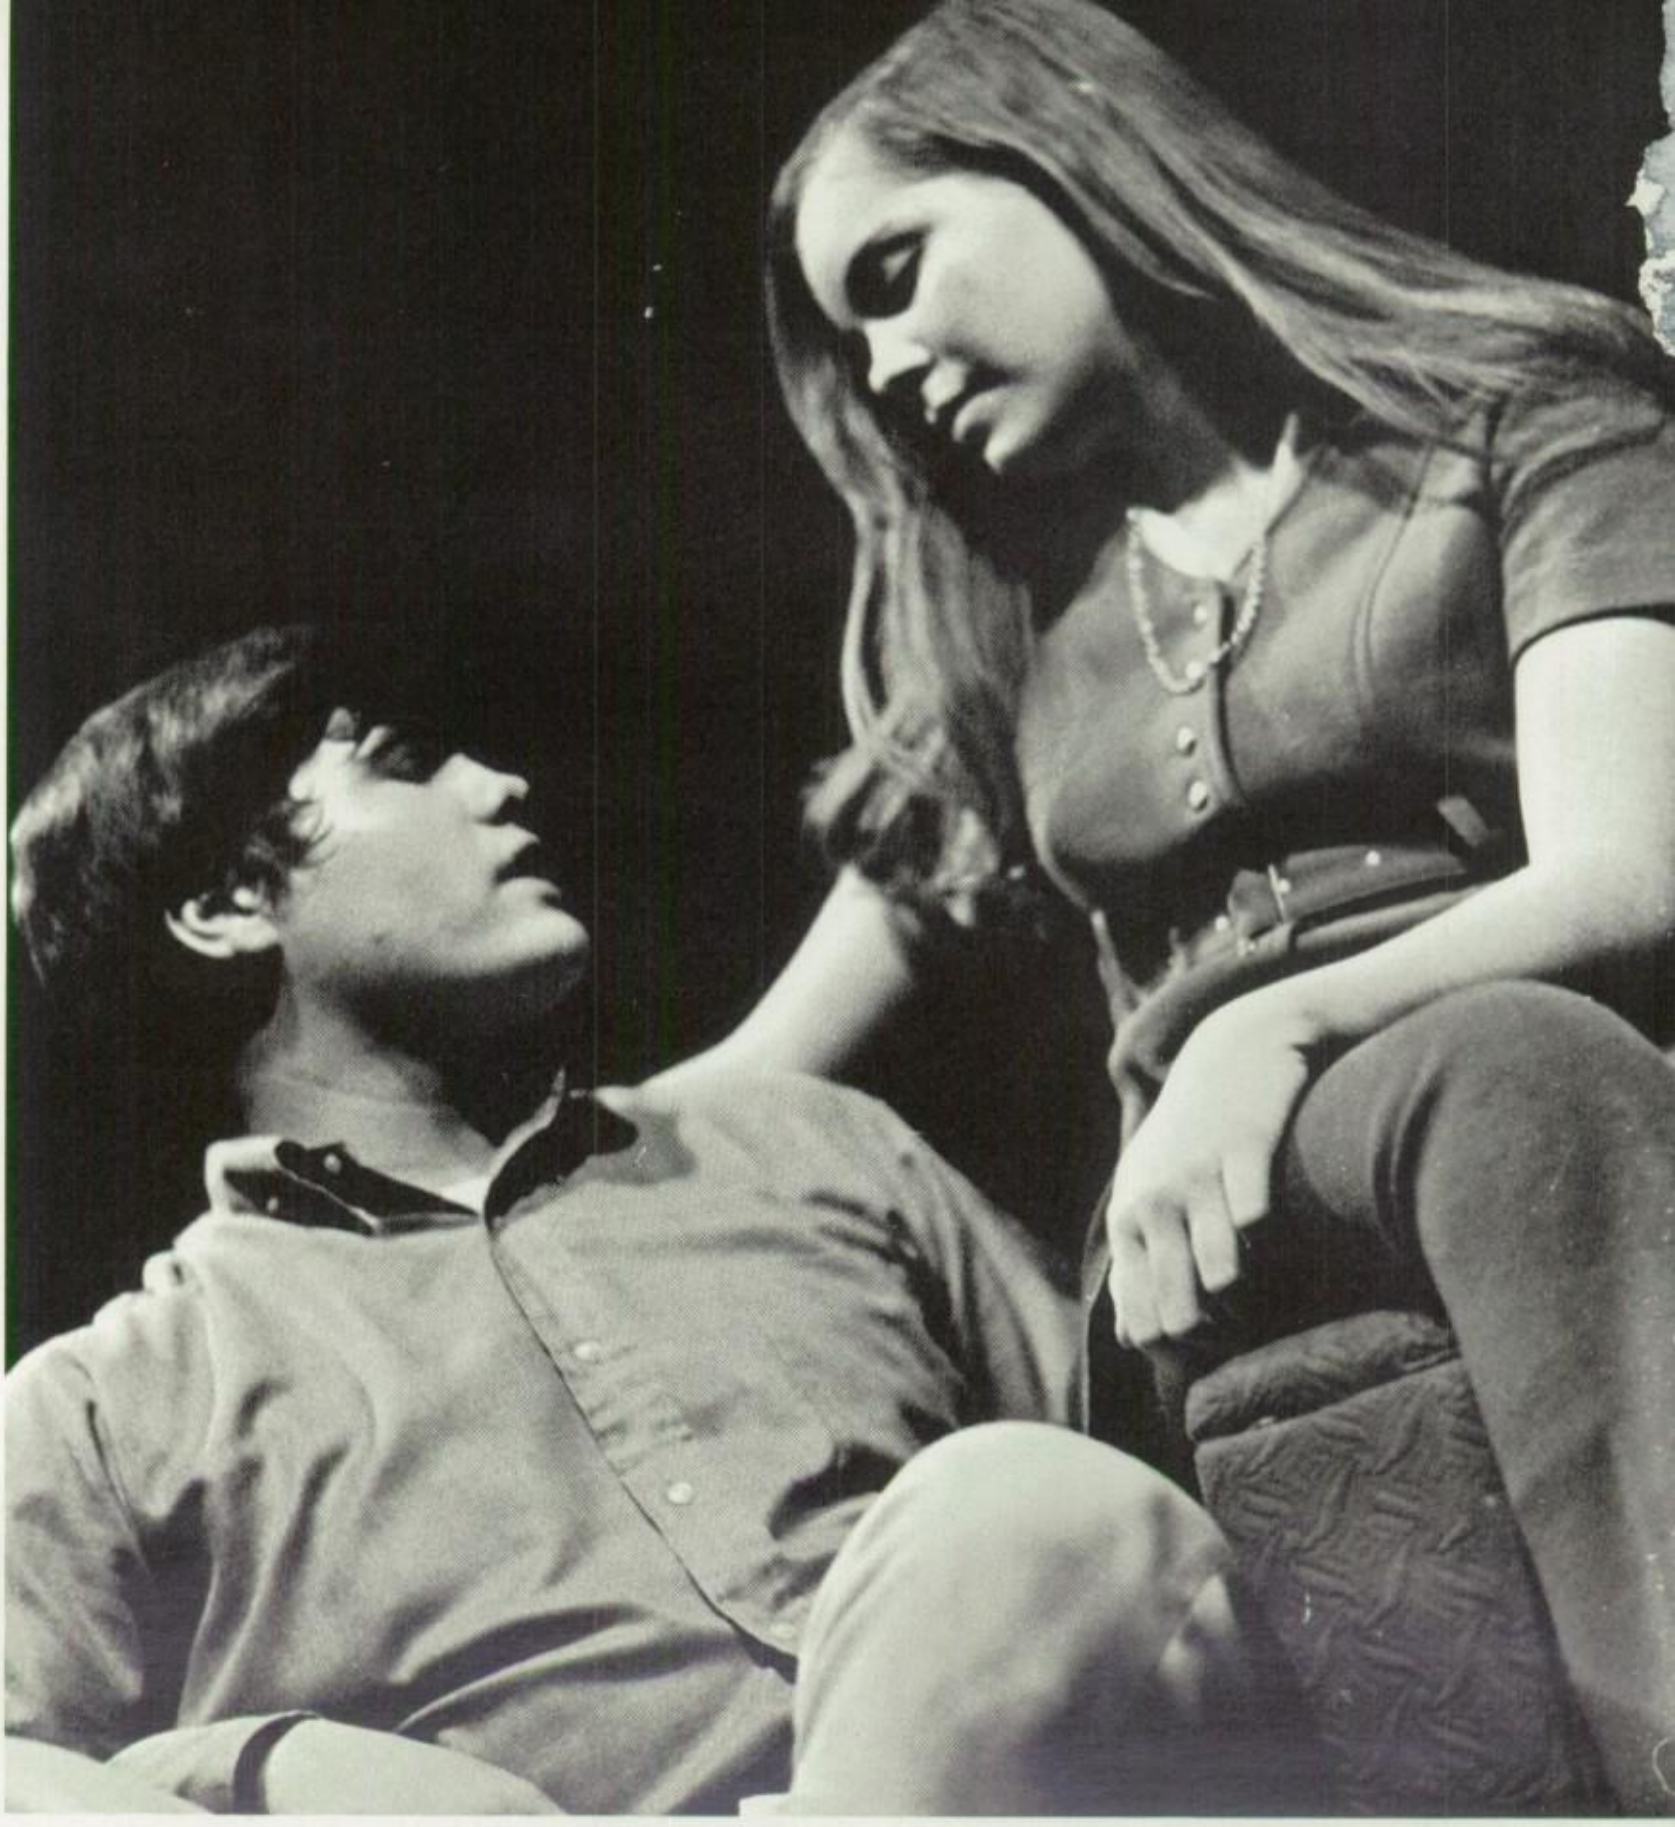
A Thurber Carnival employs large cast of THS students

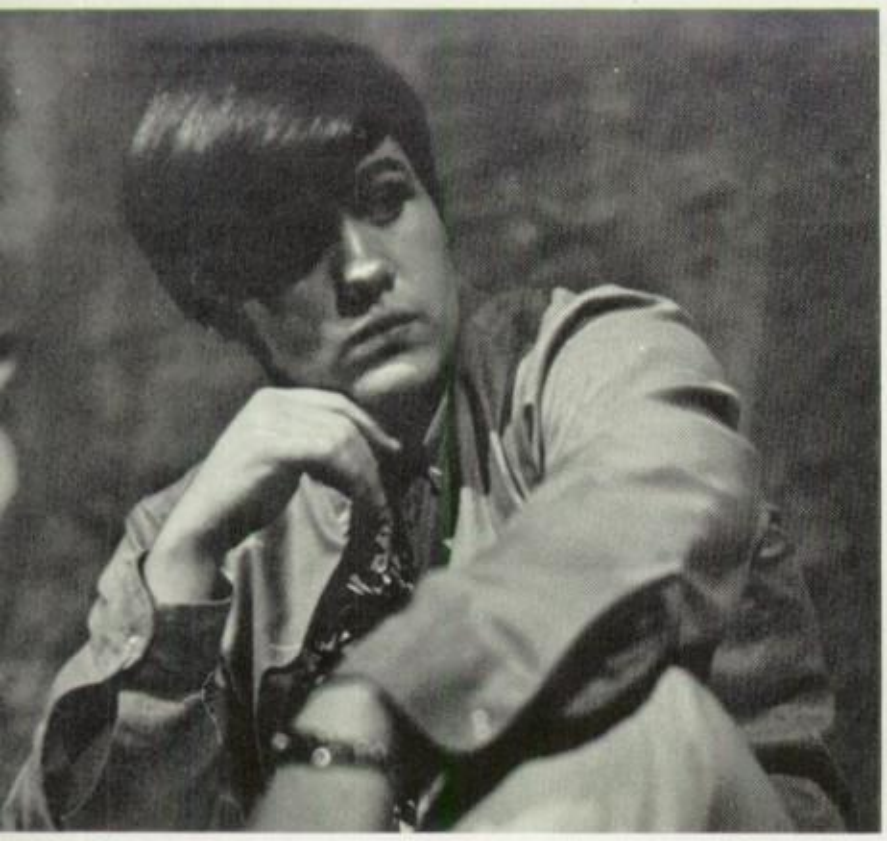
Determined to get Turner's first theatrical production out on October 17, the drama department had a lot of preparation to do.

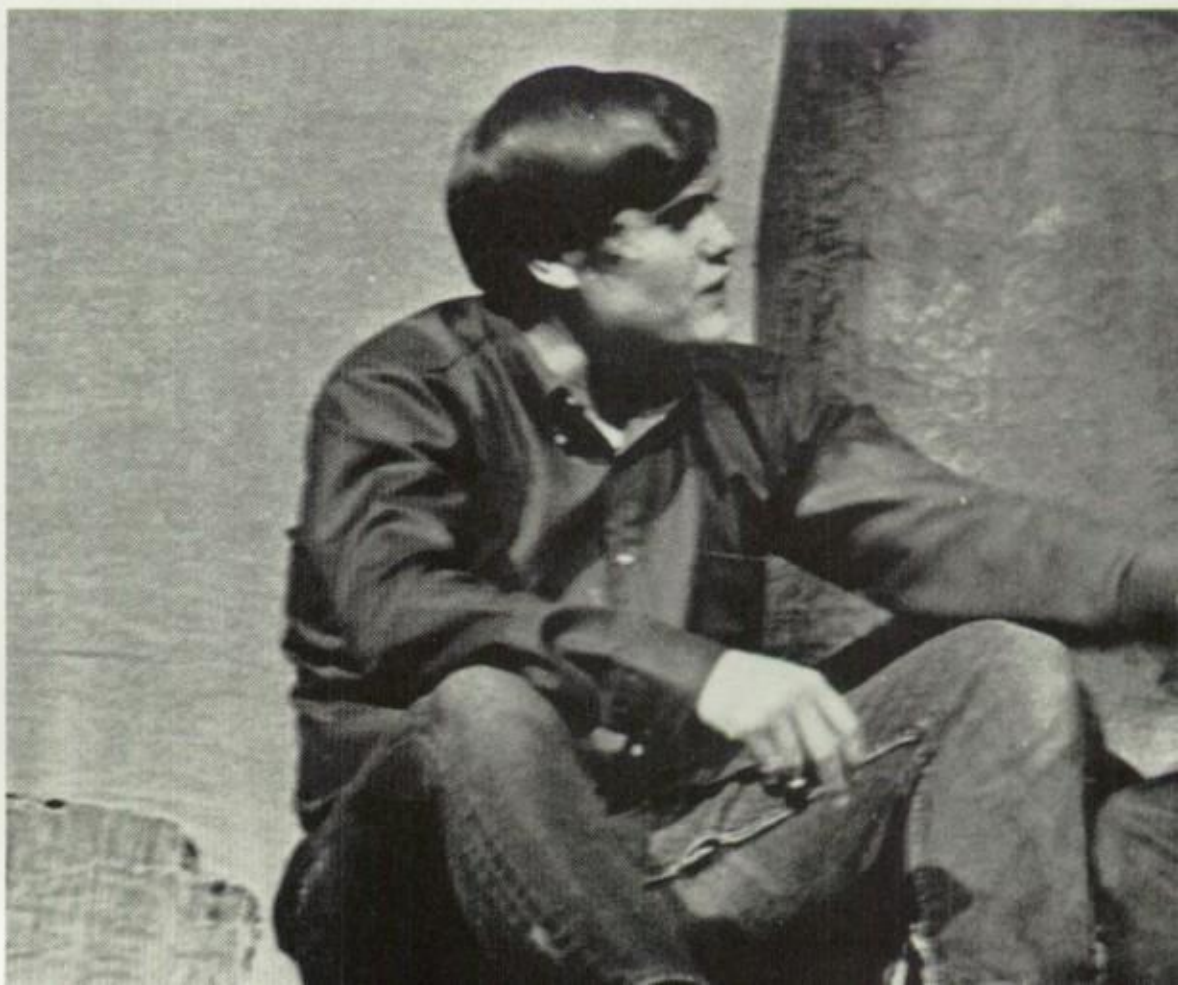
The fearless TAOTA members, (led by the intrepid Mrs. Chaisson), stapled, tacked, painted, and yawned their way through the needed props. Finally their night had come. With a kiss for luck and a lot of crossed fingers, the curtain rose.

Each half opened by a "Word Dance", dances from different eras with quips on people in modern society between.

The height of the play was entitled "The Last Flower." After the Twelfth World War, there was no vegetation to be found on the face of the earth save one lone flower. Only two small children remained of the whole human race. They nursed the flower; they loved it and it grew. They grew up and replenished the earth. Everyone was happy and there was love throughout the world. Sadly, along with love, there is always hate. Another war occurred and all that was left was a flower, a boy, and a girl.



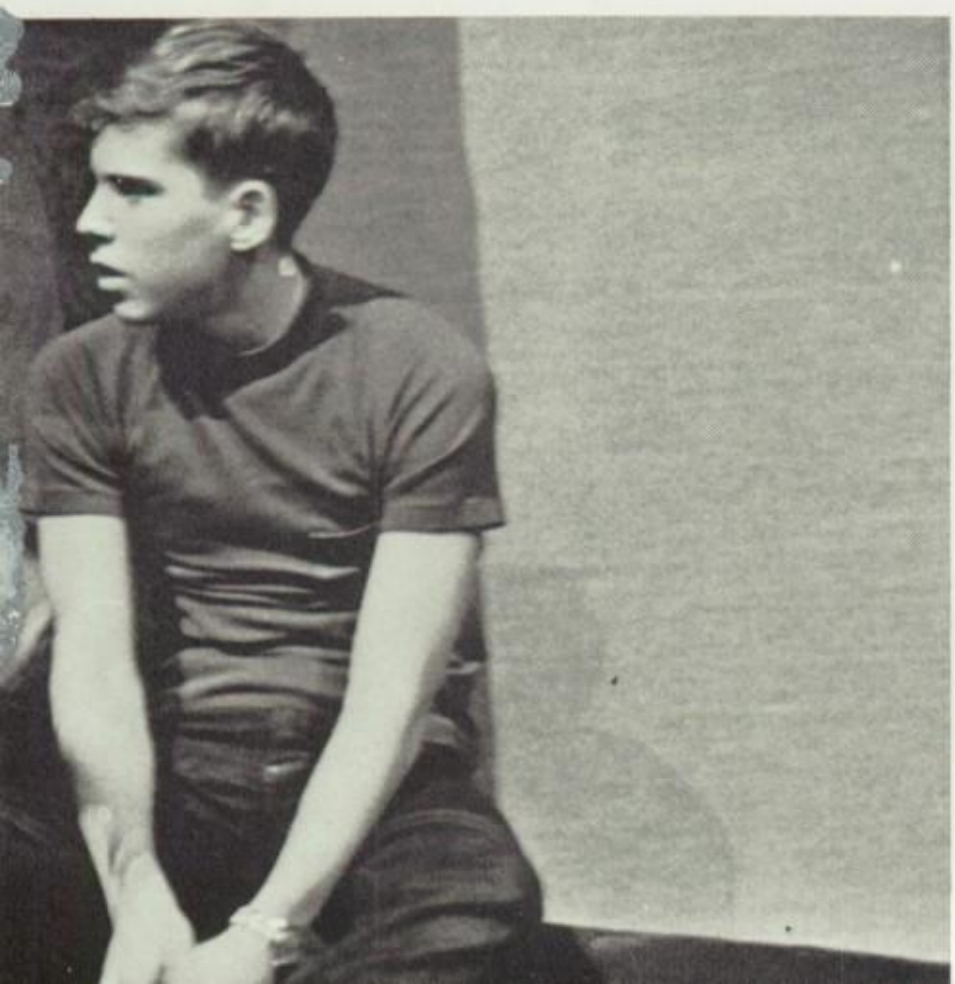


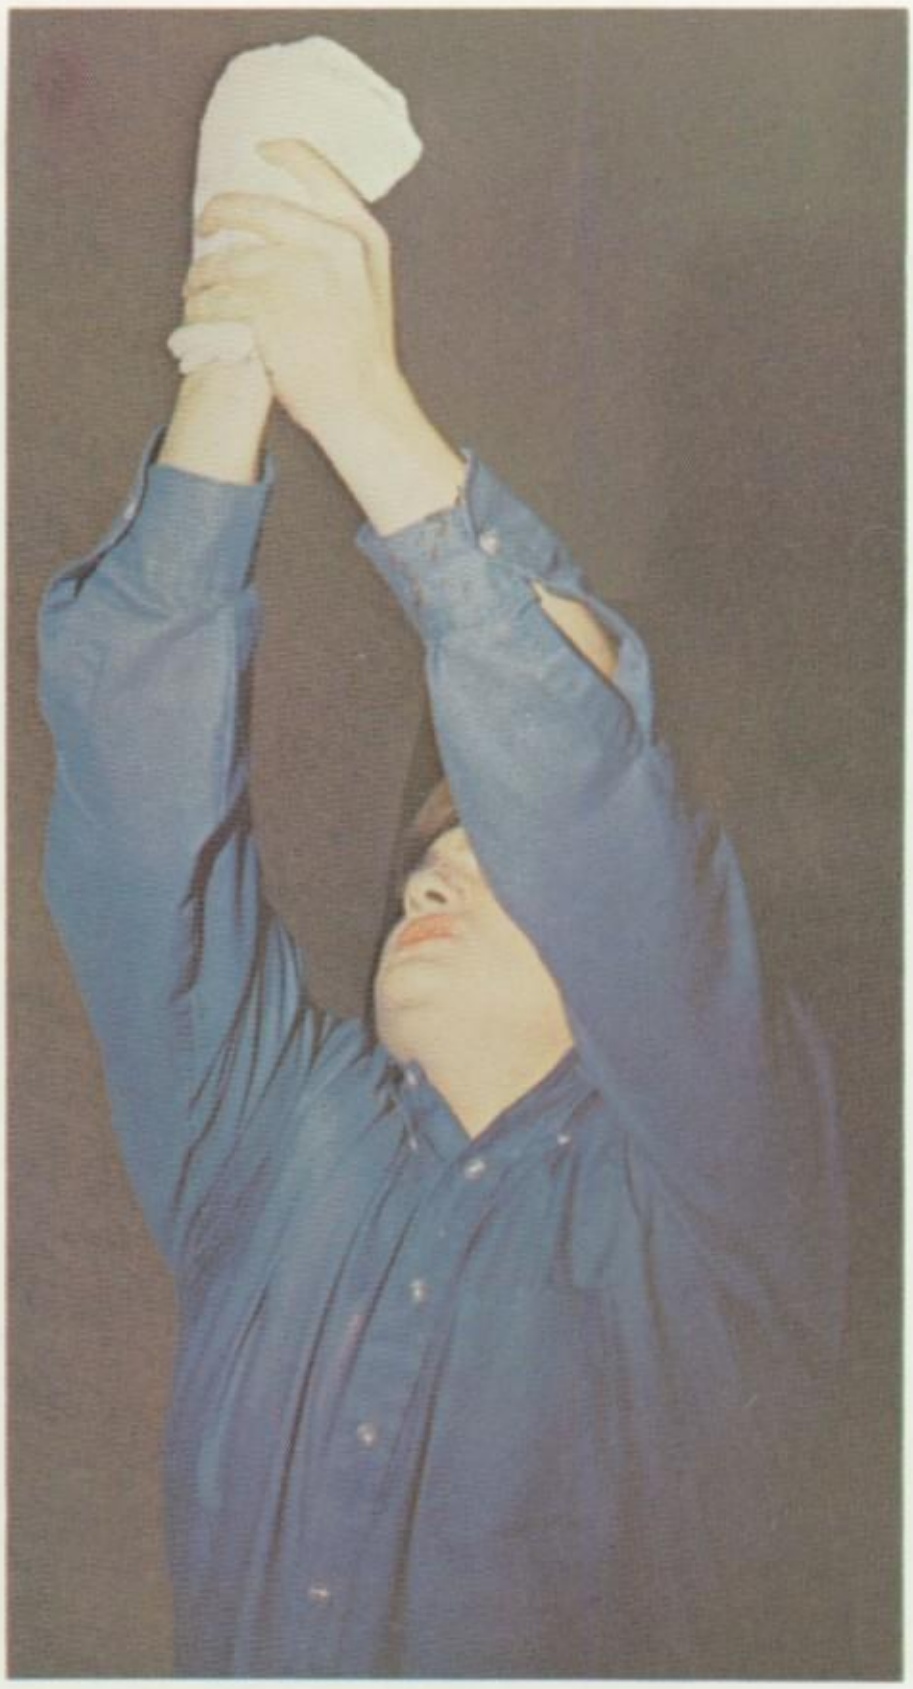


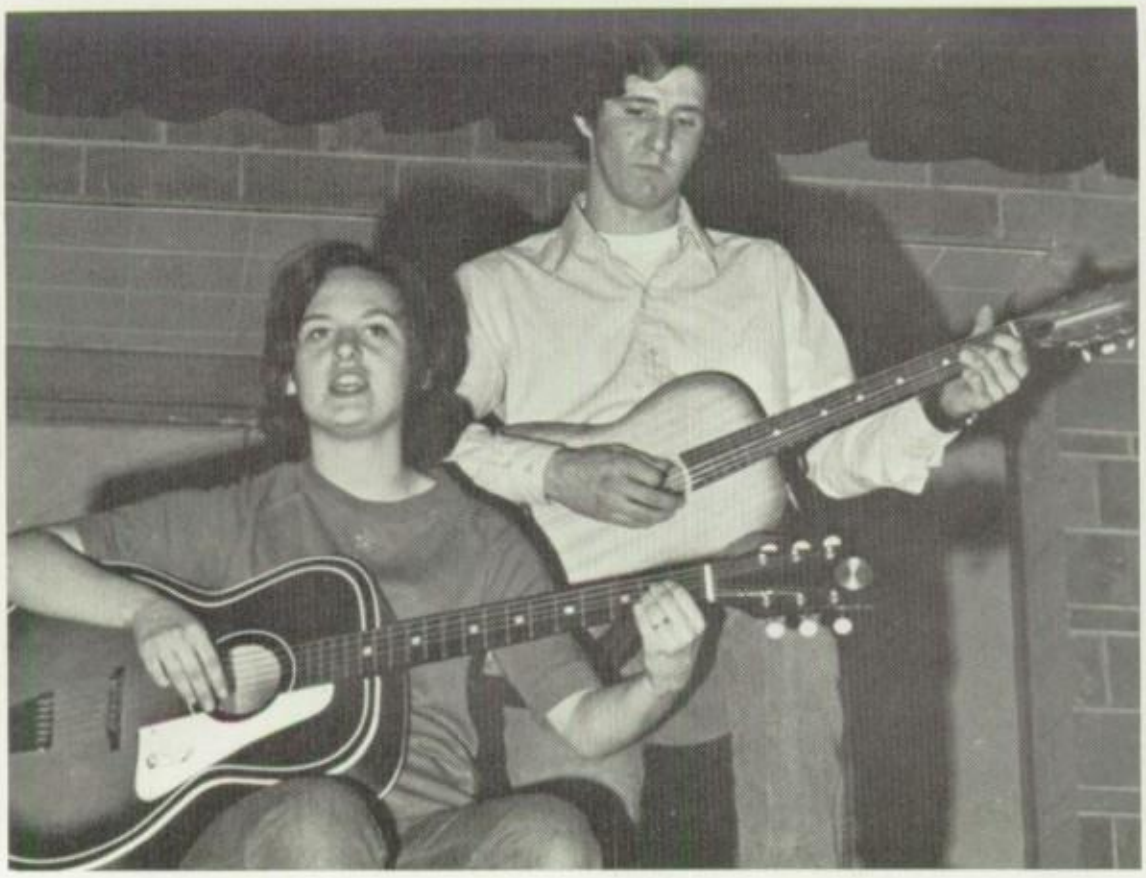
The horror and tragedy of war and the joy in life . . .

. . . were probed in SUMMERTREE as a Young Man recalled his sentimental girl, overbearing father, possessive mother, and himself as a little boy. With vivid imagination and touching simplicity, the actors portrayed the complex emotions of young and old in today's world.

The cast included: Young Man, Brad Davis; Little Boy, Steve Redman; Young Girl, Linda Lawhorn; Mother, Anita Billings; Father, Andy Davis; and soldiers, Bill Parsons, David Lawhorn, and Bill Buskirk.



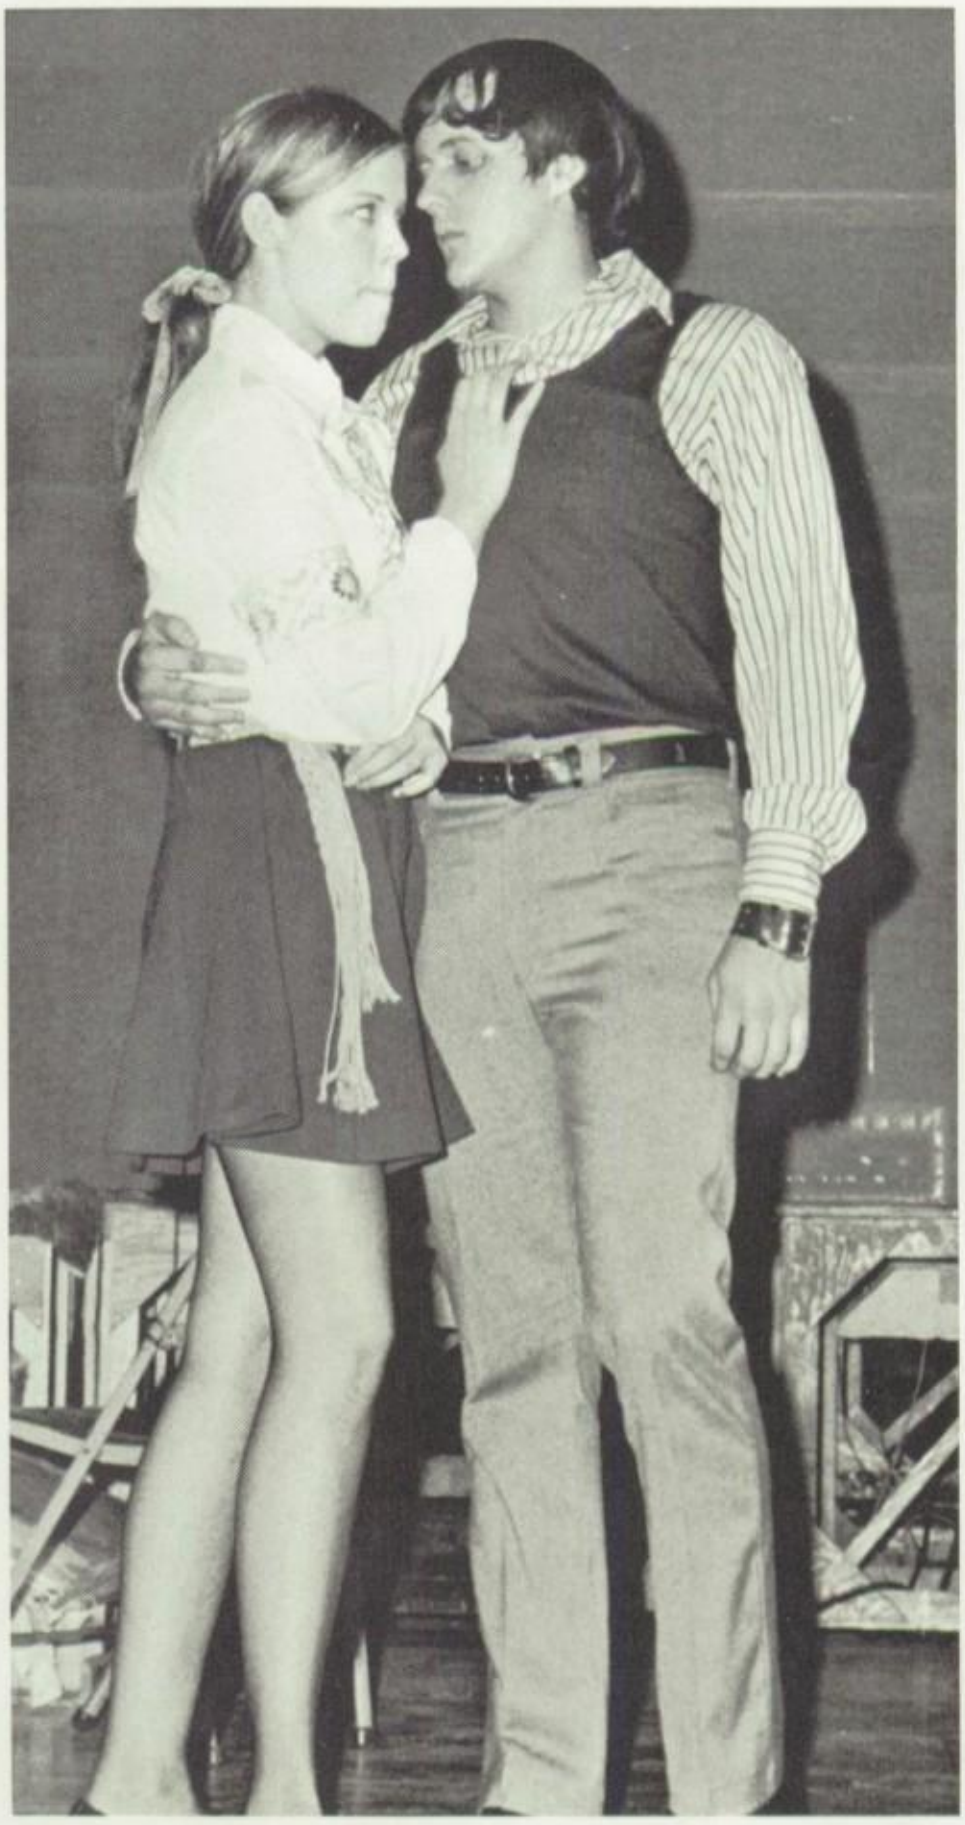


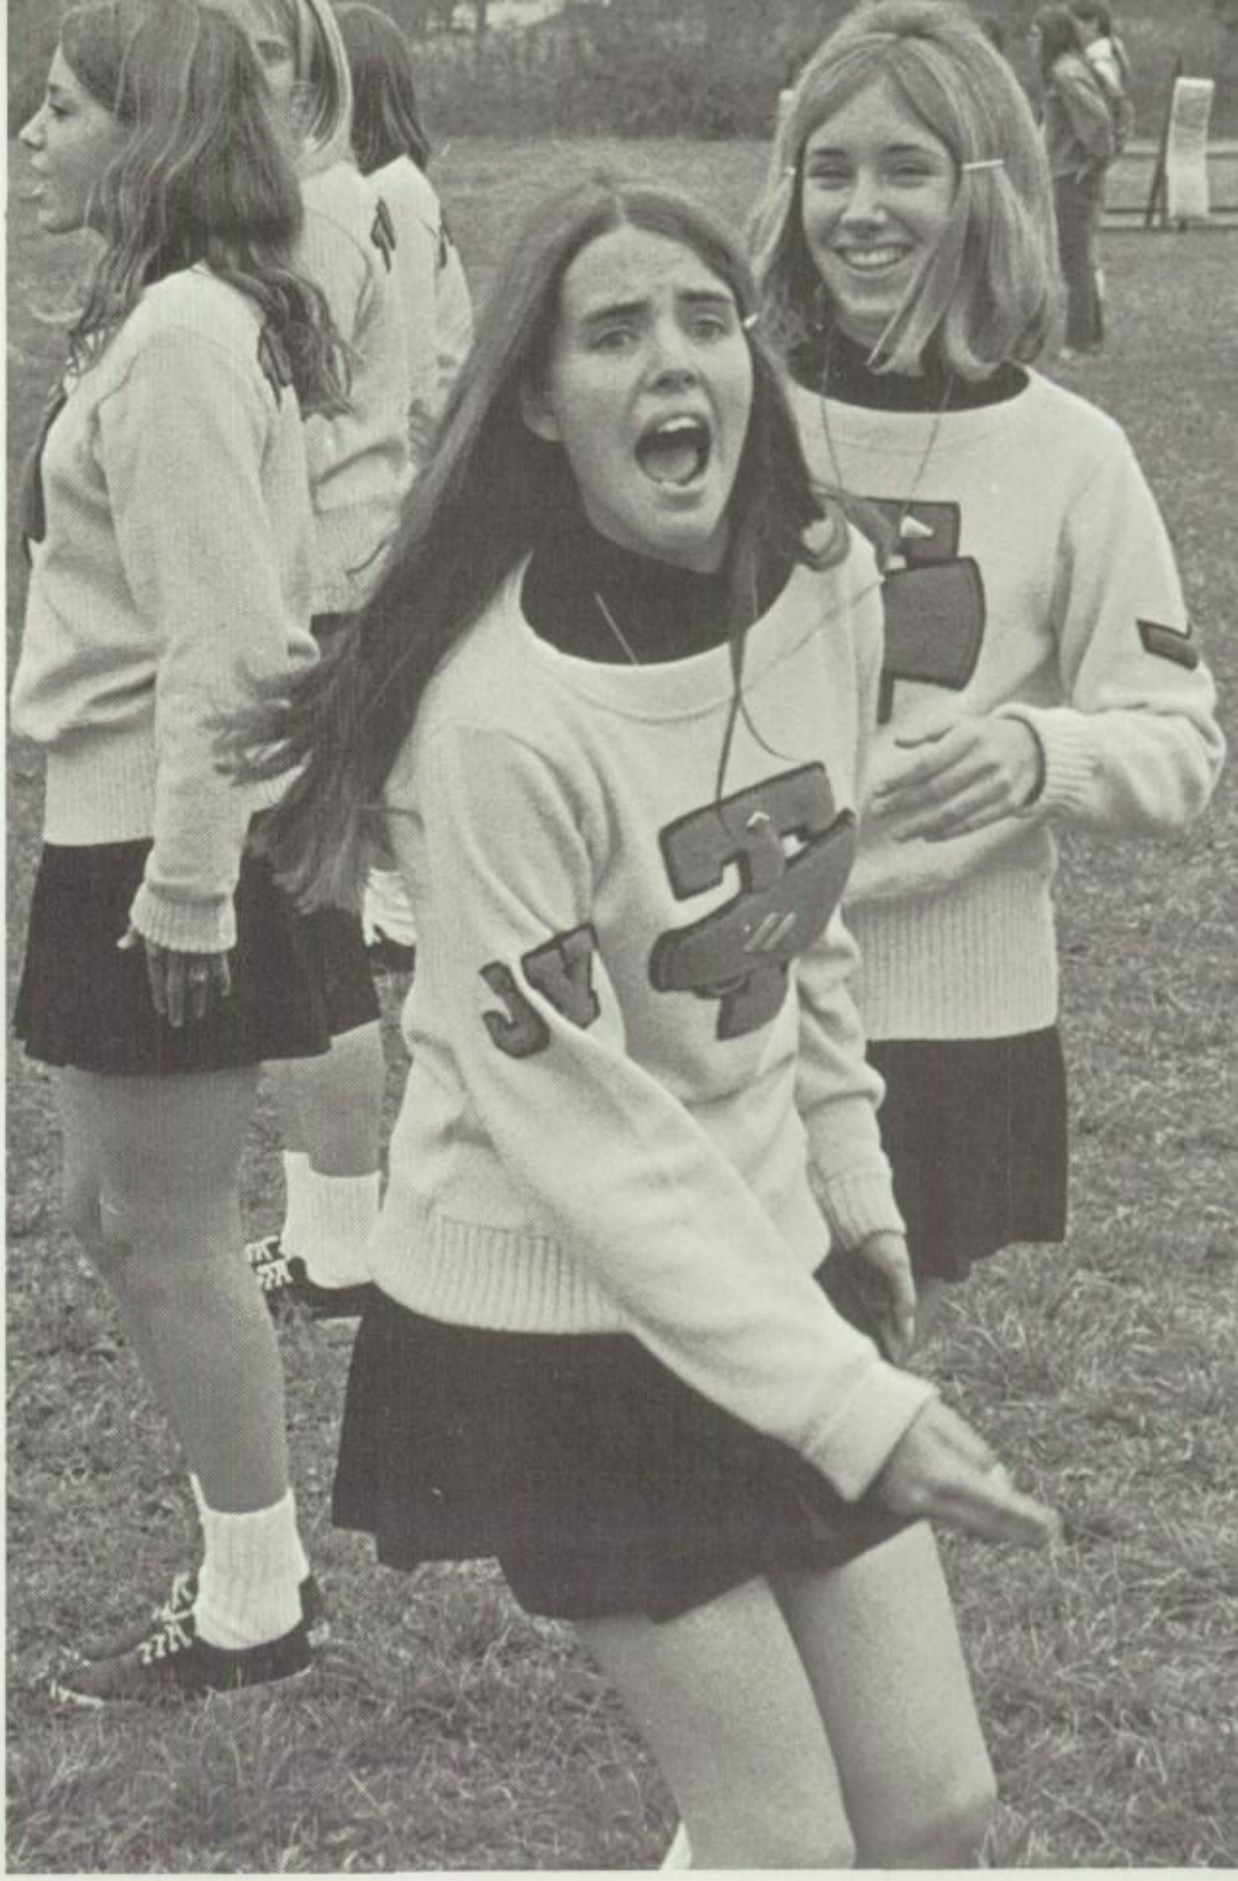


Only in America . . .

Love, hate, life, death, peace, war. It could only happen in America, which is just the plot of the play written and directed by drama teacher, Mrs. Mary Chaisson. The most unusual production ever seen on the stage of Turner, it covered every aspect of American life, from fun to freak-outs.

As the audience traveled through the country, the scenes were set by the Americana players: Ronda Crabaugh, Chris Carter, John Borusheski, Robin Mailberg, Loren Griffin, Kim Haden, Sandy Lust, Garry Rickey, Paul Ulasien, Debi Rohrbach. There were musical numbers and excellent dramatic segments. There was a revolution in Colorado, a minstrel show in Alabama, a typical election campaign in Washington, a concert in Central Park, a Democratic convention in the Chicago sewer system, and a murder.





A smile and a presentation

. . . thrilled the Homecoming audience as Julie Weathers and Steve Crabaugh began their reign as 1970-71 Homecoming Queen and King. Jim Lynch presented Steve with a football autographed by the Kansas City Chiefs, while Kay Dennis, popular singer, gave the football boys an inspirational talk.

The Pep Club showed their support not only by yelling at the game, but by decorating a Homecoming stand built by the metal fabrication shop for the Queen and her court, and by arranging to have balloons let go for a spectacular beginning. These students and teachers helped plan and execute a smashing Homecoming.

Crowned and kissed

. . . by Chiefs player Jim Lynch, Queen Julie Weathers greets cheering subjects from an elaborate float. Her court includes Connie Russell, Connie DeCoster, and Denise Doughty. Crown-bearer Kyle Heidler clutches the satin pillow while flower-girl Julie Fitch smiles from behind the ribboned arm bouquet.

Turner's intrepid offense, led by Geoff Myer, intimidates the Ottawa defense. At the half, Turner High School's Golden Bears Marching Band plays in T-formation to entertain cold but enthusiastic spectators at half time.

Faces reflect tension, amazement, and joy at 1971 Turnerite Ball

Anxiety, delight, and pleasure shone on the faces of the 1971 Turnerite Royalty as the names were announced. Afterwards,students danced to the music of the "Goodtime Rebellion" as the mighty 25' 7" Golden Buddha looked on.

Captions: Far left block: The twelve members of the band line up while couples prepare to dance. Top left block: Nancy Torrey and Jim Barclay wear gracious smiles as they assume their roles as Mr. and Miss THS. Lower left block: The Royalty candidates wait breathlessly for the announcements and burst into applause as Kara McClellan is named Princess of Athletics. Top right series: Jan Holt, Andy Davis, and Joyce Cathey move to take their places near the fountain.

Debate reappears at THS

What's the debate about? . . .
Something about elephants tearing down Tarzan's hut I think . . .
Yeah . . . To obey or not to obey, that is the question! . . .
You think we'll find the place
this time? . . .
I don't know . . . where's
Cranberry Hill, Kansas? . . .

Activities: Attend debate clinics; participate in contests in Kansas and Missouri.

Sponsor: Mrs. Mary Chaisson.

Dixon has winning legs

Uh! Look at those hairy legs!

They're so UGLY! You think they'd shave them or something.

Then they might as well have a MISS LEGS Contest.

Yeah . . .

The Mr. Legs Contestants this year were: Steve Meier, Jerry Shoemaker, Richard Leeper, John Crowder, and John Dixon. The candidates were presented at a special assembly where John "Legs" Dixon was crowned Mr. Legs of 1971.

John's campaign featured a huge beer mug with which to collect the votes.

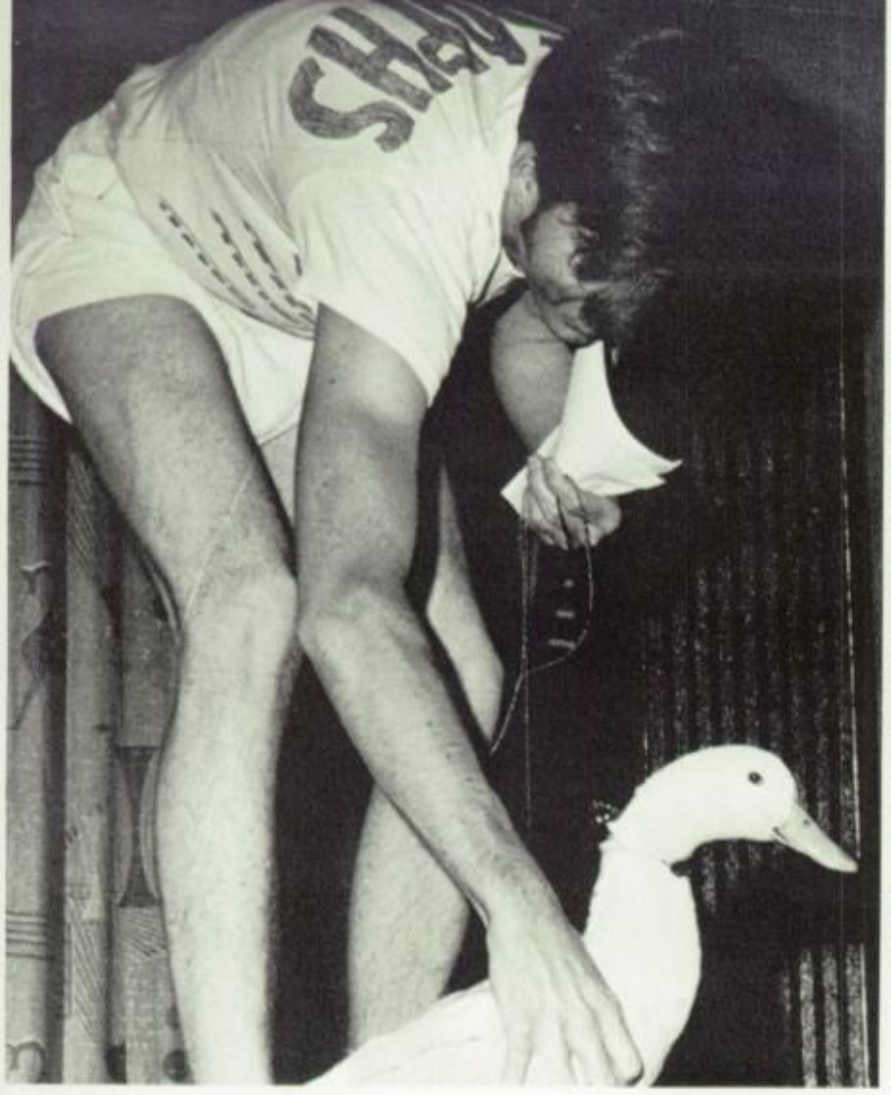
"Are you kidding?!" replies senior counselor Bill Collins.



Grads say good-bye

There were smiling faces and tearful eyes Friday, May 14, as the graduating class of 1971 said their farewells in the annual senior assembly. As Mrs. Spitzer introduced each act, the seniors pointed out the highlights of their years at Turner. They satirized such familiar things as getting senior rings, the parking lot, and the dress code.

Of course, as always, the high spot of the assembly was the reading of the will and prophecy. There were a lot of laughs and red faces as well as the usual amount of fun. The assembly ended with the entire senior class coming on stage to sing their farewell song.

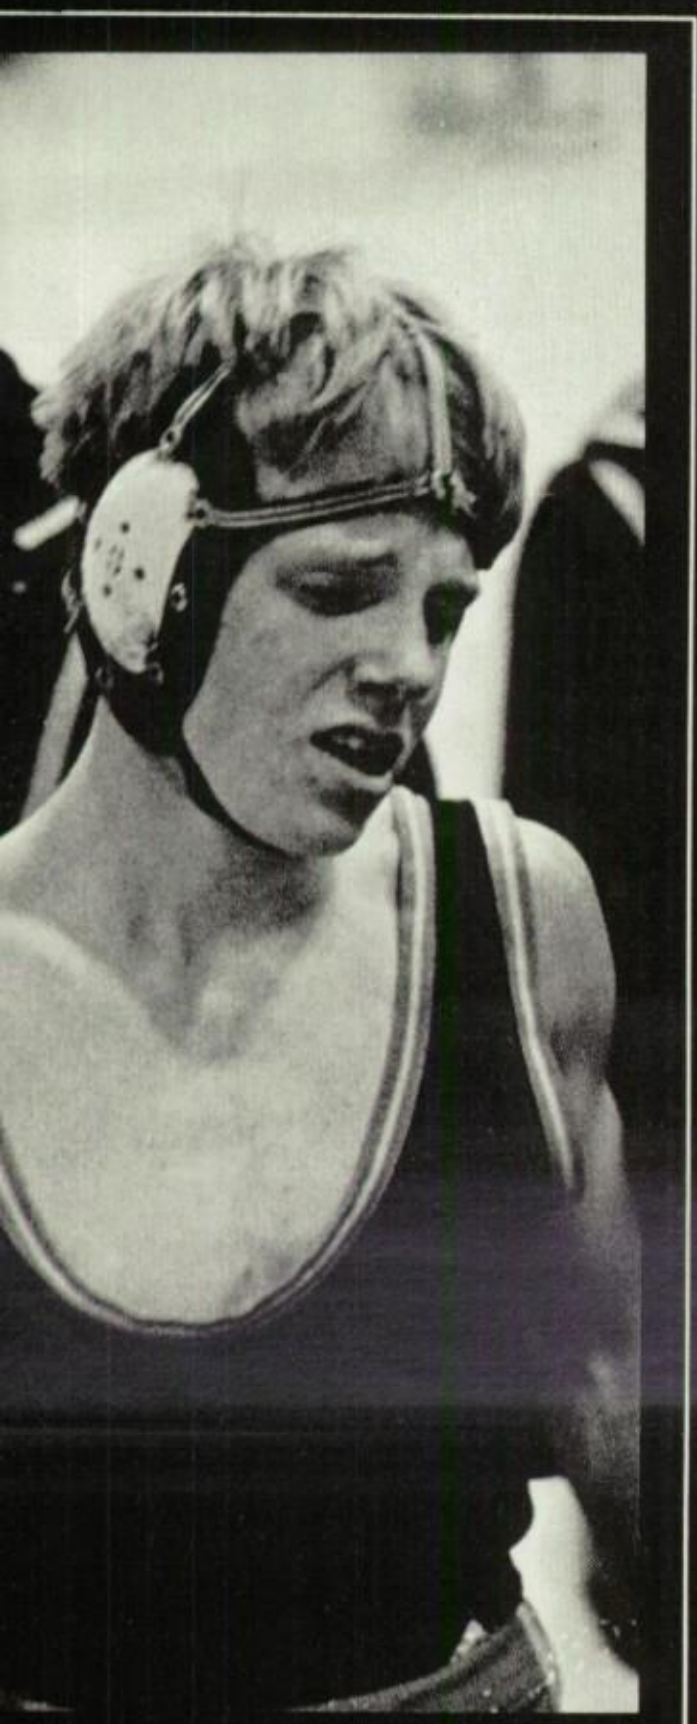
Spring visits the junior-senior prom

The annual junior-senior prom was held the evening of May first in the school gymnasium. The theme of the event was "A Touch of Spring" and the gym was decorated accordingly. The Bobby Soule Revue provided music which was enjoyed by approximately one hundred seventy couples.

The decoration committee, which numbered in excess of fifty juniors, did an excellent job. The committee was headed by Mrs. Betty McDonald and Mrs. Kathleen Elliott. Other supervising teachers were: Mr. Roy Kleindolph, invitations; Mr. William Stratton, entertainment; Miss Karen Acker, refreshments; Mr. William VanHecke, clean-up. The junior class sponsors are Mr. Bruce Bowman and Mr. Tom Flynn.

Captions, clockwise from the top: Couples hurried onto the dance floor in anticipation of the first song; Keith Hatch and Kathy Snapp enjoy some punch while taking a break from dancing; Contrasting dress lengths were evident at the prom; Refreshments were served to guests by underclassmen; The Bobby Soule Revue provided entertainment for couples in attendance at the prom.



"I think it's about time for a change in tradition at Turner, and I think the class of '73' can make the change. The more lenient dress code seems to let the girls be more comfortable at school. Homeroom should be removed from the schedule because I don't think it is used to its full advantage. All-school projects should be encouraged, such as an "Earth Week," to involve the students in the ecology problem. Such a project would strengthen the Student Council and draw away some of the over-emphasis on sports."

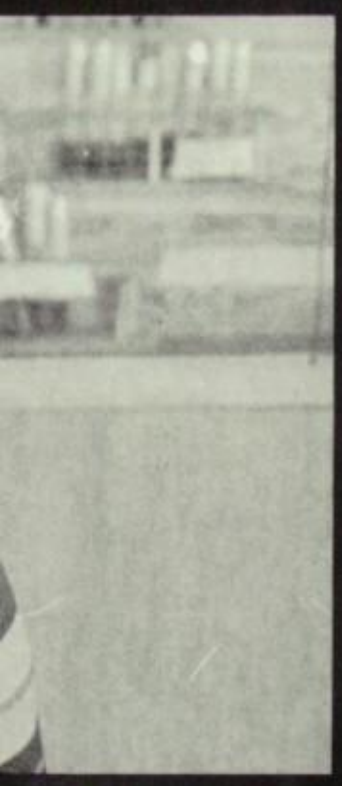
Chuck Ford

Sophomore Class Officers are: Cecil Wilson, Terri Harbour, Sherry Hale, and Chuck Ford.

Sophomores bring new ideas to THS



"I think T.H.S. is a pretty good school. Like other schools, though, it has both good and bad qualities. There are a few things I would like to see changed.

I feel that the class of '73' has great potential. There are a few ups and downs like all the rest of the classes but we have proven ourselves in the past and will continue to do so in the future."

"We need to have a wide range of offerings for each individual and his interests. We want to challenge all students with classes which are meaningful, and in tune with the times. Our staff must be made up of dedicated teachers who CARE about their students. Above all, we must be sure that each student develops a salable skill by the time he leaves high school."

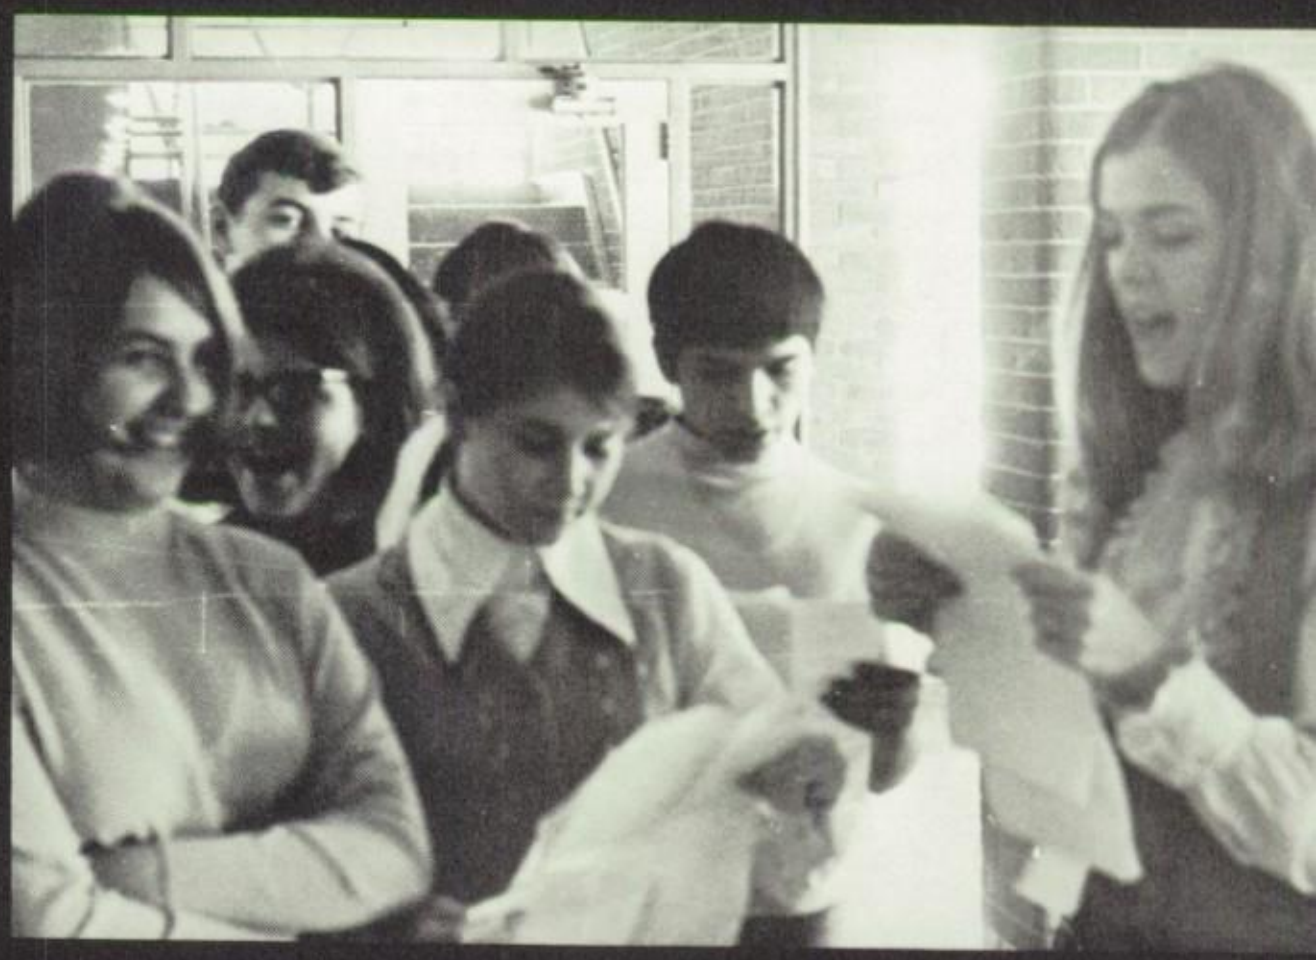
Robert A. Wilkins

Faculty and Student Council join forces



"The student government at Turner needs to attain more support and recognition from the administration and students themselves in order to operate more effectively."

A student court? . . . "A student court would work fairly well if the presiding judges were responsible students because kids are usually harder on other students than the faculty would be."

"Love? . . . I believe in love. I think most teenagers are mature enough to handle love in high school. There are a few who aren't but then . . . there are always a few.

Teachers at Turner? . . . They're OK. They try but they don't always get their point across. I think they should put out a little more effort. The new dress code is a great thing for Turner and I think it's been handled well. Since the change, I haven't seen too many who don't use good judgement. I really like it."

Joe Steineger

Enthusiastic juniors display spirit, spunk, and sportsmanship

"The junior class has cool spirit. At Turner one class alone has better spirit than all three combined. Like when the girls yell in different classes, they aren't yelling for their school, but more for their class.

STUCO? . . . I think the students at Turner aren't fair about the Student Council. It needs more support from the school. Kids should have more respect for their teachers. It makes the teachers care more."

Why have clubs? "I feel that clubs promote school spirit. They draw students into the stream of school life, giving them a chance to know their classmates better and to understand others. Everyone has his own reason for joining a club. It's an individualistic type of thing; you're in a group of people but you're still alone.

Clubs give an opportunity for self-betterment through helping others. Most people think too much about themselves. If they thought more about other students and got involved, the school would profit as well as the clubs."

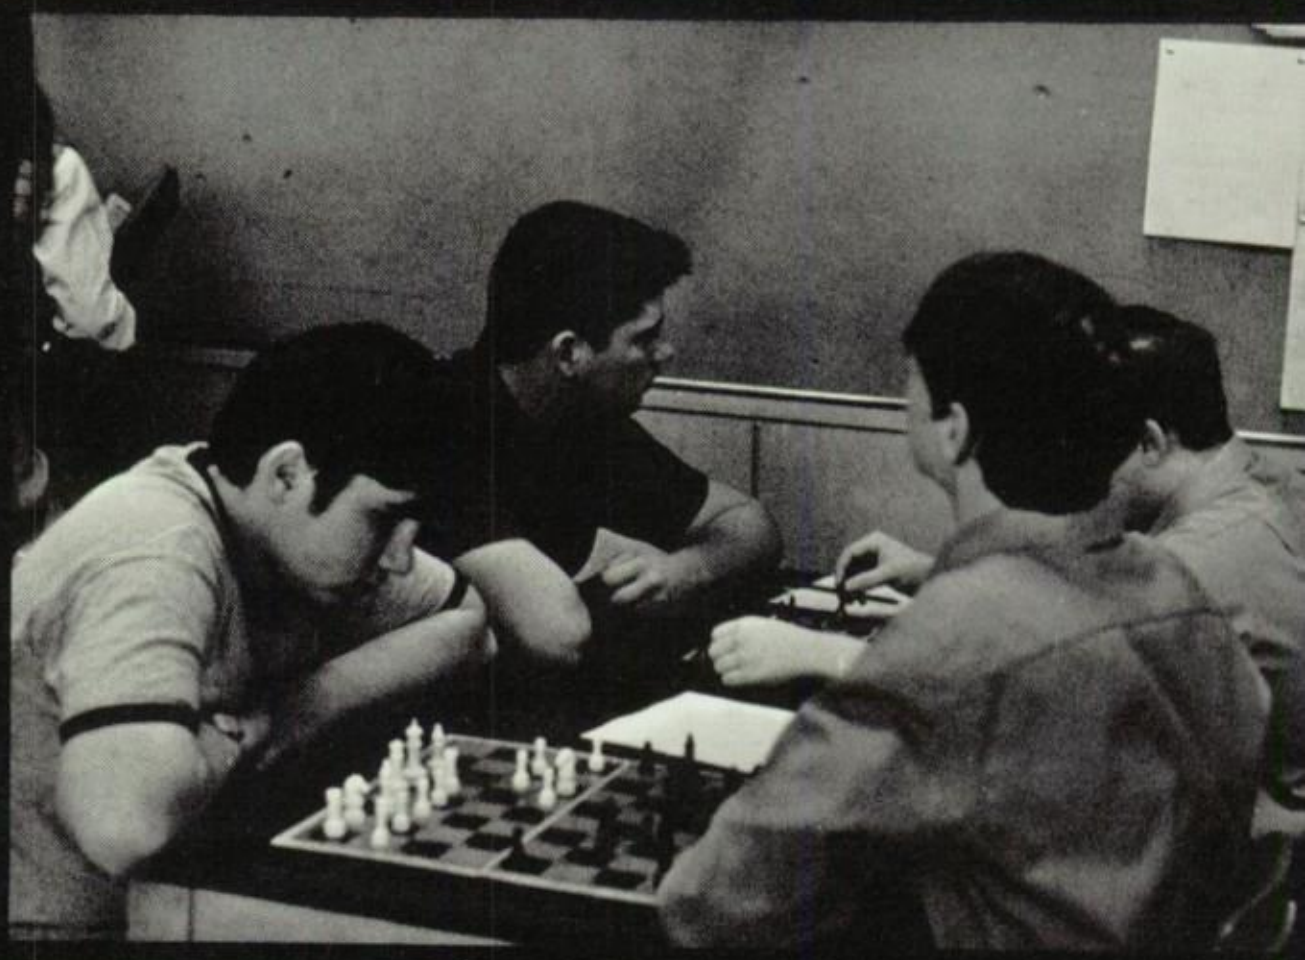
Cheri Elrod

Clubs provide a means of education, communication, and self-expression



"Clubs are a way of really getting involved with people at school. Sometimes groups do the weirdest things, like having an Art Club officers' painting and critique session on top of some bushes that have been converted into a studio.

Everyone knows that lots of time must be put into a club if you want to get something out of it, particularly if you're an officer. You have to stand up and take the reins in order to unify the club.

I think I've done more work in clubs than I have in classes, but clubs are worth all the effort put into them."

Music students win medals

Each year Turner High School recognizes its outstanding music students. This year eleven students performed solos at the State Music Festival at Baker University. Three students received a superior rating for their efforts. They were Bill Collins, trumpet; Debbie Davis, flute; and Rita Little, vocal.

In addition, each year the John Philip Sousa Award is given to one outstanding band student. This student must maintain an "A" average throughout three years of band, participate in all band activities, and excel as a musician. Bill Collins was this year's recipient of the John Philip Sousa Award.

"I think I've gained much through participating in athletics. For one thing, I've learned about sportsmanship. I think it's great when two football players can go at it on the field and come out shaking hands when the game is over. I've also learned a great deal about winning and losing; how it's similar to the ups and downs in life. Winning is great, but I think it's even greater when you can bounce back from a loss and play your heart out the next game. To be truthful, though, I'd like to learn much more about winning."

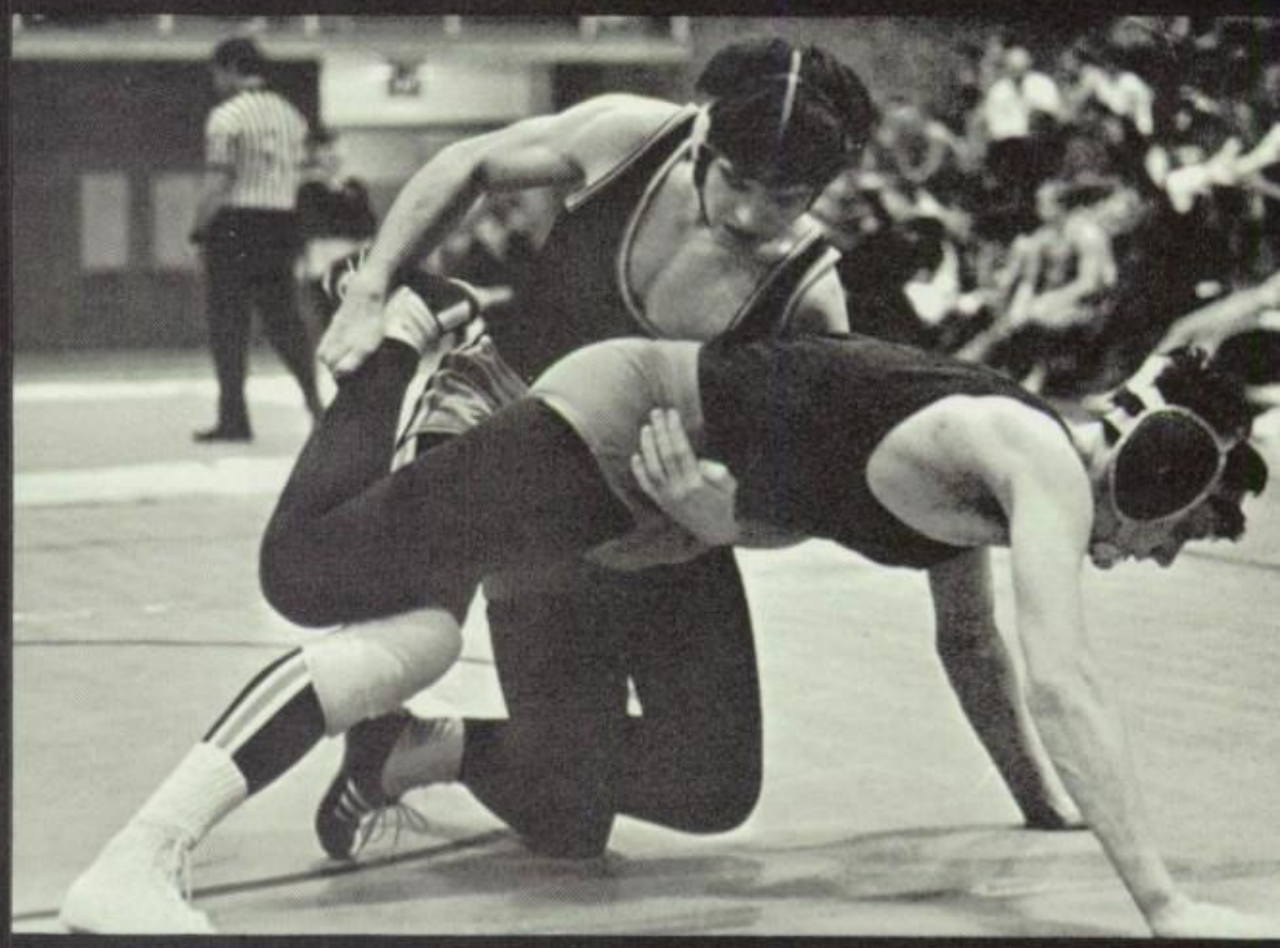
Steve Meier

Win or lose, doing your best is the name of the game



"Being a cheerleader means coming to the games and cheering and watching our team play. As head cheerleader I have a lot of responsibility because if things don't go right I get the blame. I've learned that when people are depending on you to get a job done, you'd better finish it.

I definitely feel that more spirit by the Turner fans gives the players more incentive to win. Face it, when there's noise and a crowd of people at the game, that's the kind of atmosphere you want. I think it makes the players want to try all the harder for a victory."

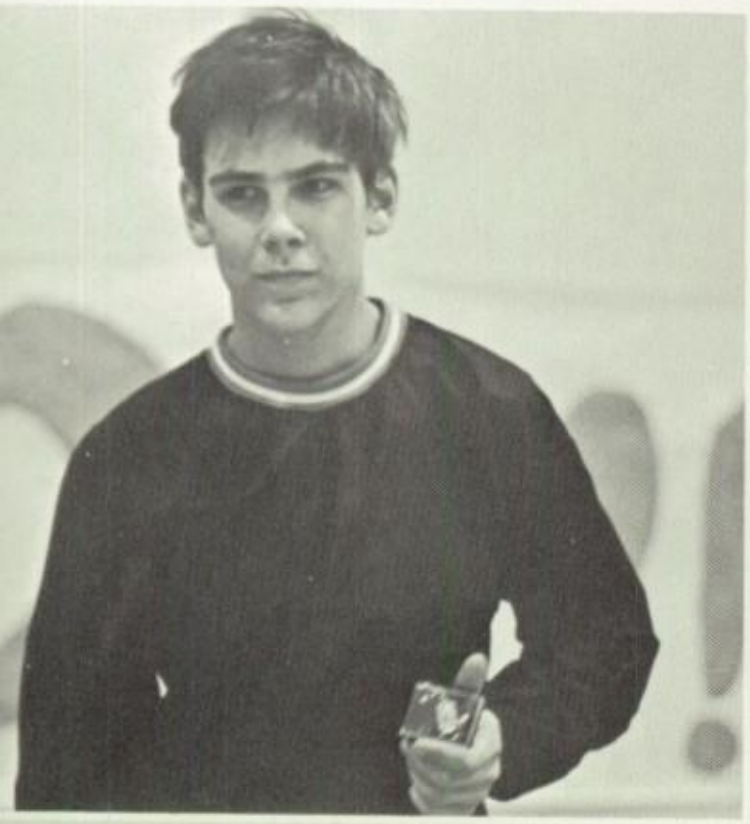
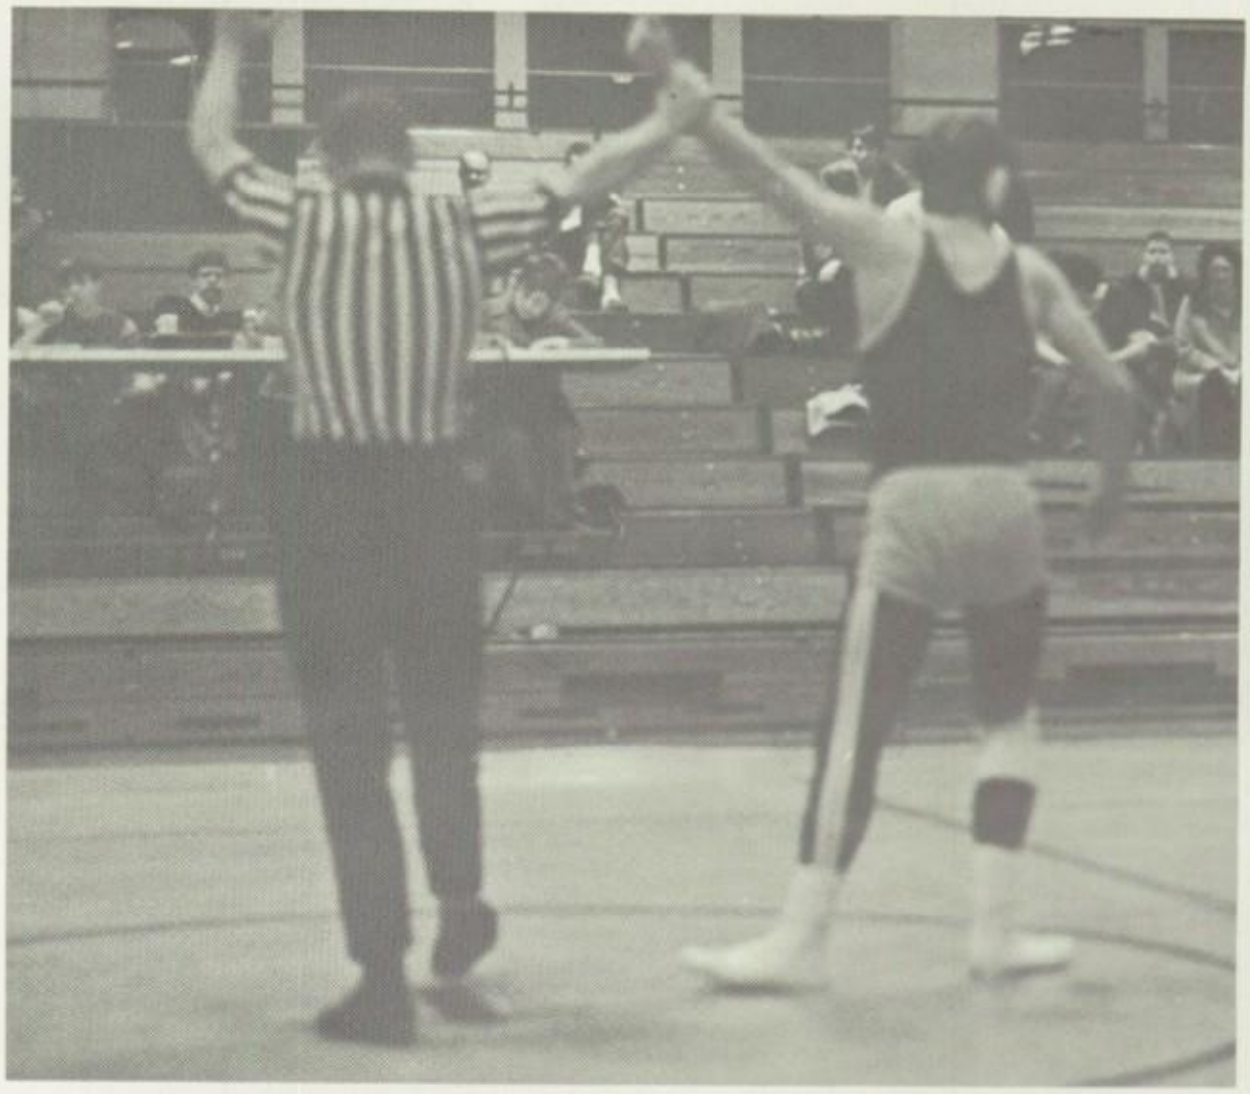
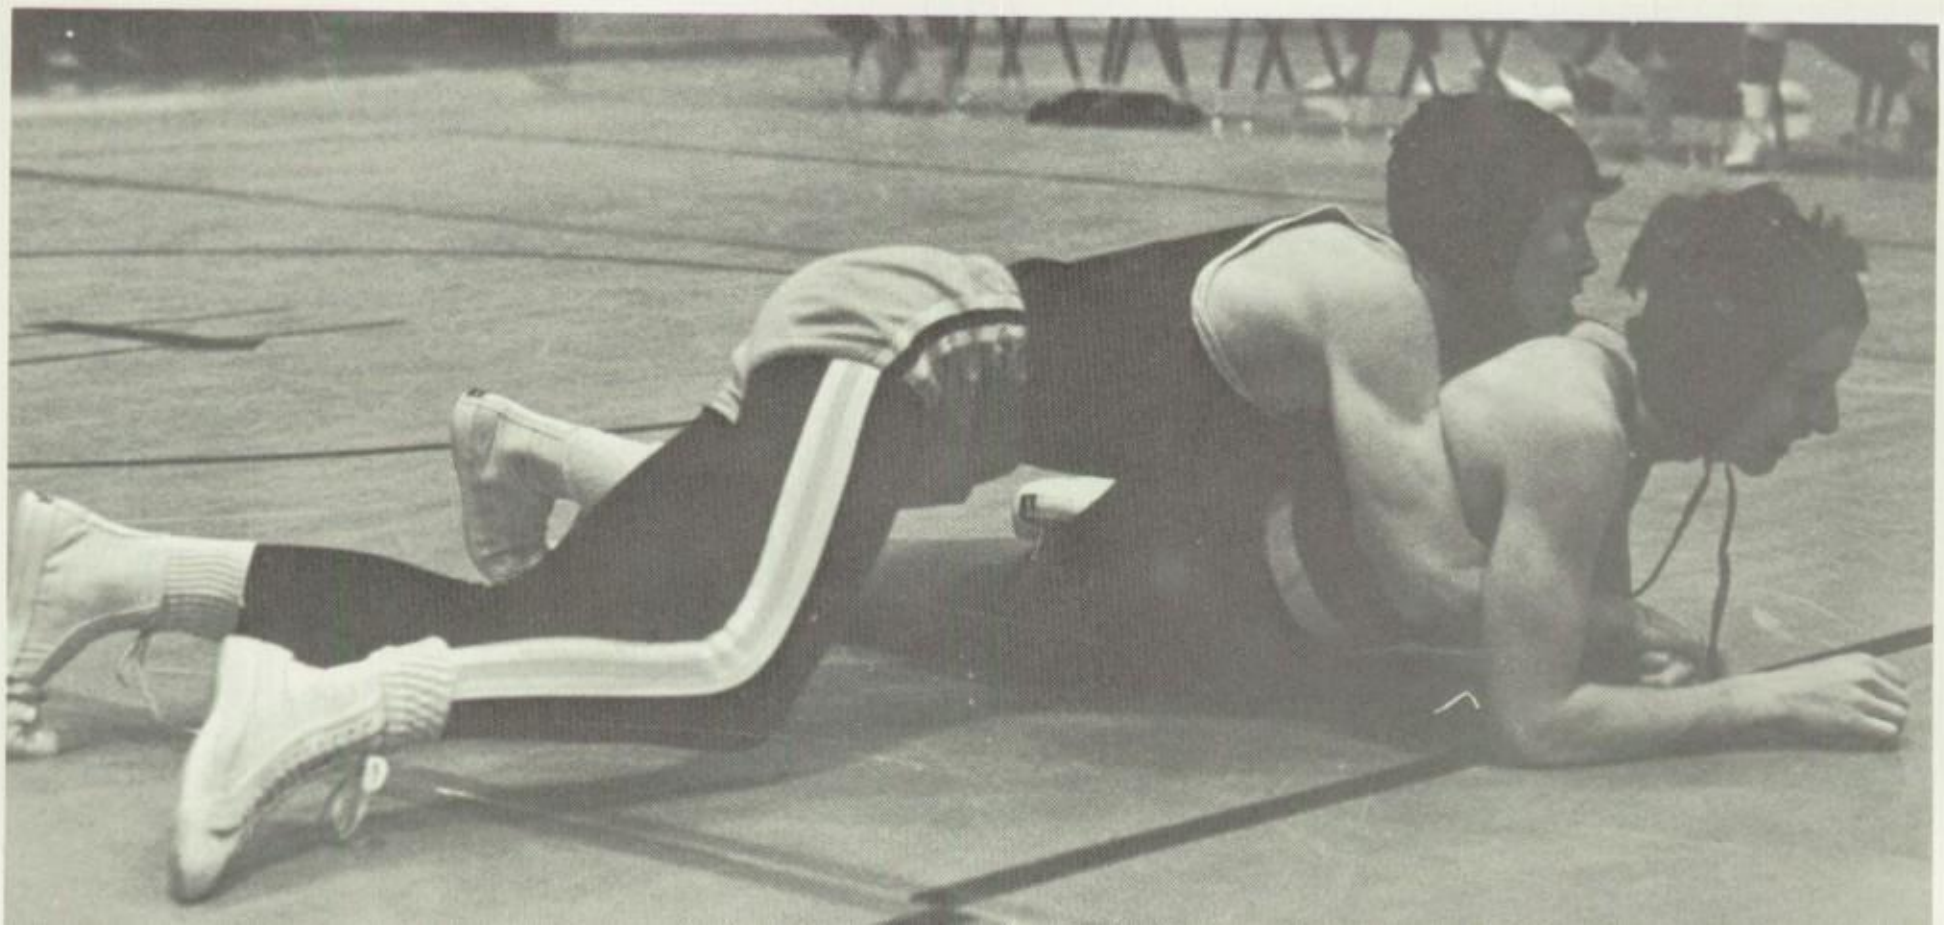
"Wrestle!"







The Golden Bears who prowl the wrestling mats at Turner came on very forcefully this winter as they finished the season in third place in the rugged E.K.L. Led by team captain Ross Grafton, they wound up with a league record of 3-2 and an overall record of 7-5 in duel match competition.

On December 19 the "grapplers" finished in fifth place at Highland Park in a very tough invitational tournament match. The Duel Match Invitational held in the Bears home territory on January 30 was won by the mighty matmen of Turner. Medalists were Jeff Payne, Charles Bailey, Dan Andrew, George Chapman, John Smith, Ross Grafton, David Scott, Ken Briggs, Craig Hatch, Cliff Crozier, and Roger Jones. The Bears traveled to Shawnee Mission South on February 5-6 for the class 4A-5A District Tournament and to claim an undisputed second place finish for Turner High School.

Although six wrestlers advanced to the Regional Tournament, only one member of the team, Ross Grafton (132), was able to place and qualify at the tournament and win a chance in the 1971 State Tournament.

Turner High's golf team sported a few new advancements this year. The main welcome surprise was the increase in varsity lettermen over last year. The team also had a few looks of last year, one of which is Coach Roy Johansen. Although the team didn't quite rise to its expectations, it was consistent in being led by senior Denny Brown. With the return of the varsity lettermen this year, Coach Johansen has high hopes for next year's Golden Golfers.

Gulps of air, pulled-on warm-ups, searing pain, and sympathetic hands - that's cross country

Determination and perseverance marked this year's Cross Country season, even though the team did not meet all its goals due to a lack of experience. Competition among team members was strong, however, and the talent evenly distributed among the league members. The experience gained by returning lettermen will definitely be an advantage next year, according to Coach Jones.

This season the Outstanding Cross Country and Track Athletic Award went to Bill Collins. He was the only team member to qualify for the State Cross Country meet at Wamego, Kansas, in which he placed 25th out of 92 competitors.

The members of the 1970-71 Cross Country team were: S. Burke, senior; Ken Cassidy, junior, Varsity letterman; Kurt Cassidy, junior, Varsity letterman; M. Clem, sophomore, Varsity letterman; B. Collins, senior, Varsity letterman; C. Horst, senior, Varsity letterman; D. MacDougall, senior, Varsity letterman; M. McGregor, junior, Varsity letterman; B. Tyson, junior, Varsity letterman; D. Track men fall in stride

The light-clads from Turner High could once again be found roaming the hills of the campus and the entire Turner area. Sprinters, distance men, and field men all worked hard under the guidance of Coach Gale Jones during practices to give Turner a good showing. Although the team hosted a number of capable trackmen, only two, Bill Collins and Jim Stout, qualified for the State Outdoor Meet at Wichita.

Bears finish season with 4-6 E.K.L. record

All during the 1970-71 basketball season, there was never a dull or silent moment in the Turner High School gymnasium. This year's Golden Bears kept up the long-run tradition that Turner always has a tough, competitive team.

Led by the sleight-of-hand playmaking of Mike Pettey, senior, and the big rebounding power from the combined efforts of Bruce Downs and Steve Crabaugh, seniors, the Bears were in every game. Although Turner finished with a compromising 4-6 E.K.L. record, they kept the games alive by their teamwork and sheer hustle. The season was fruitful from the excitement standpoint—and after all, that's what the game's all about.

Varsity cheerleaders worked hard boosting school spirit by assisting at J.V. tryouts, directing pep assemblies, and being involved in all sports activities. Expenses for camps, clinics, and uniforms were paid by sponsoring garage sales and the annual Mr. Legs Contest. The Varsity Squad consisted of: Kara McClellan, head varsity; Deb DeCoster; Nancy Torrey; Connie DeCoster; Becky Hilton; Teresa Smith; and alternates, Brenda Myers and Vickie O'Neal. Out of fifty-three schools, these girls placed second at Warrensburg, Missouri. They were also awarded the Spirit Bell for their outstanding drive and enthusiasm during their week at camp. After the start of the season Brenda Myers was replaced by Kim Haden. The sponsor for the cheerleaders was Mrs. Marion Sinnett.

Varsity cheerleaders lead school in spirit

Coaches encourage mind, J.V. Cheerleaders encourage

Our cheerleaders did a fine job of encouraging spirit at THS. The Junior Varsity Cheerleaders who boosted the JV players this year were: Denise Doughty, head cheerleader; Karen Etzen; Belinda Taylor; Sherry Kennedy; Lindsay Wilkins; Debbie Bunce; and Sherry Hale, alternate.

This year the JV Cheerleaders were seen in much needed new uniforms and new gold sweaters bought with the profits from a bake sale and a garage sale. To honor their new uniforms, the cheerleaders practiced three days a week so they would look their best to boost school spirit and cheer the Bears onward.

"The class of 1971 is great! I feel that the people who really worked have enjoyed this year more than all of the other school years combined. Sometimes it seems like this is the class that should have been but wasn't. Like football . . . we were 4-5 and could easily have been 7-2. It's not just true with sports but other areas of the school, too. Why? . . . seniors just didn't carry the leadership . . . Those who worked got the benefits . . . companionship . . . maturity . . . a chance to excel. The new programs–AVTS, DECA, debate–helped the school a lot. Our class and the changes made were a good way to "What is a senior? I guess you could call the title of 'senior' a 'mark of distinction'. But what senior thinks of it that way? We take it for granted that we are seniors . . . like saying, 'Eh, so what else is new?' About the only thing we think of as being connected with seniors is graduation. Graduation . . . that's the ultimate of our secondary education . . . but then off we go to jobs or college, later to fall into the everyday pattern of adult life. How about that? Guess who will be the older generation then? But, I am proud to be a senior . . . a memory which will last forever."

National Honor Society holds two installation ceremonies

A break from the traditional was noted this year as National Honor Society conducted both day and night time installation ceremonies on May 11. The introduction of the new members and the receiving of membership cards marked the morning initiation, while the evening ceremony followed the format of the traditional candlelighting service with each new member lighting his candle and recording his name in the Society's roll book. A reception for the members and their guests was held afterwards in the band room.

Sponsors: Miss Harriet Dunn, Mr. Stephen Earle, Mrs. Betty McDonald.

Officers: Dennis Wilson, president; Billie Moats, vice-president; Nancy Torrey, secretary-treasurer.

Old members: Nancy Allen, Diane Arnold, James Barclay, Stephen Burke, Jody Butler, Joyce Cathey, William Dressler, Cheri Elrod, Ron Kent, Linda Lawhorn, Deborah Lohrey, David MacDougall, Patricia Martin, Billie Moats, Carol Myers, Marilyn Stepaniak, Janice Taylor, Nancy Torrey, Dennis Wilson.

New members: Stephen Allison, Marlys Bell, Patricia Bradford, Stephen Briles, Pam Clayborn, Bill Collins, Ronda Crabaugh, Connie DeCoster, Leslie Dobbins, Stan Fitch, Gwen Foster, Joy Halbach, Jan Hart, Teri Higgins, Steven Hoit, Jan Holt, Daniel Huff, Connie Jacobson, Denise Jaimes, Debbie Johnson, Elizabeth Johnson, Joni Johnson, Pamela Lincoln, Dean Lakten, Rita Little, Sandy Lust, Kathy Maher, Steve Meier, Diana Page, Carla Powell, Christal Ray, Garry Rickey, Adrienne Roberts, Debra Rohrbach, Dennis Sigler, Jennifer Southern, Glen Spence, Walter Turner, Sherry Williams, Rita Wilson, Stephen Worthington.

Caps, gowns, and diplomas– seniors bid farewell to THS

After donning caps and gowns in a last minute flurry of activity, three years of high school were brought to a finish for seniors with Baccalaureate and Graduation.

Baccalaureate services were conducted in the Turner High auditorium with Reverend Guy Frank Bunce of the Pentecostal Church of Free Holiness and Reverend Dwight Johnson of the Crest Bible Church in attendance.

Commencement exercises, which were held in Memorial Hall May 19, began with Dr. S. Mancil Bell giving the invocation. Senior class president Jim Barclay presented the class gift, drinking fountains, to the school. A special touch was added to the usual ceremony by the recognition of honor graduates. These were the six highest scholastically ranked seniors, the top three being designated as valedictorians and the others as salutatorians. The six were, by rank, Billie Moats, Patricia Martin, Nancy Allen, Carol Myers, Nancy Torrey, Steve Burke.

The two top ranking seniors, Billie Moats and Patricia Martin, were the official valedictorian and salutatorian respectively.

The graduates received their diplomas from Dr. Jack Haden, and with a last look at relatives and friends, marched out into the future.

In Point of Justice"; Valedictorian Billie Moats gestures during her address "Freedom: Is It Worth It?"
